Where and when is INBT annual poster session?

- May 1, 1:15 p.m. in the lobby and corridor outside of Owens Auditorium between CRB I and CRB II at the Johns Hopkins University medical campus. INBT and our sponsors provide exciting prizes for our poster session participants, and we know you will not want to miss out!
- Poster location assignments will be given AT THE SYMPOSIUM.
- POSTERS MUST BE IN PLACE BY 1:15 PM. However the smarter thing to do is to come for the speaker talks between 8 a.m. and noon and put your poster up early. The poster submission deadline is Monday, April 27.
- LATE REGISTRATIONS AND WALK-INS WILL NOT BE ELIGIBLE TO BE JUDGED FOR PRIZES. Register before the April 27 deadline.

Which research topics are appropriate for presentation at the poster session?

ASSUME THAT YOUR POSTER HAS BEEN ACCEPTED. Nanobiotechnology is a multidisciplinary field, therefore research from any topic in medicine, engineering, public health and the basic sciences are relevant topics for presentation at this symposium. If, for some reason your poster is determined NOT to be appropriate for presentation, someone from INBT will contact you, but that is not likely to be the case.

How big should my poster be?

- NO LARGER than 4 ft. wide by 4 ft. tall, but smaller is better.
- WHEN YOU ARRIVE AT THE POSTER SESSION, you will be assigned a location number for your poster. Please post your poster only in your assigned spot. Posters not in their assigned spot will not be judged.

What should I expect during the poster session?

- Judging will begin promptly at 1:15 p.m. You will be assigned to stand by your poster to answer questions during either A session (1:10-2:15 p.m.) or B session (2:15-3:15 p.m.). If someone is not representing your research when the judges come by, you will be disqualified from judging.

If you have any questions about how posters should be displayed, set-up times, dimensions, etc., please contact Mary Spiro at 410-516-4802 or via email at mspiro@jhu.edu.
